CAUGHT BY CUPID OR BY SUNSHINE

REMAINS IN CALIFORNIA

SUSPICION IS THAT MATRIMONY WAS HER OBJECT.

THETHER it was the seductive sunshine of California or the persistent wiles of Cupid that caused pretty Miss Annie Nielsen to leave her fellow-excursionists with brief warning on the pier at Oakland, her acquaintances profess not to know. But they have their suspicions.

Miss Nielsen was one of the jolliest of the throng that started away with of the throng that started away with the tabernacle choir eleven days since. Though a staunch admirer, she was not a member of that famous musical body. These many years agone, she has left all the gleeing to others and has humbly and industriously applied herself as nurs. girl in the home of Dr. A. S. Bower.

Annie was thrifty in her time—so thrifty, in fact, that when the choir's tour was proposed she got right into the game. Gazing at fifty of her large, round dollars, it occurred to Annie Nielsen that she might go along just as well as not. If anything else occurred to Annie, it is not known. But she bought the ticket and she landed across from Oakland in good health and spirits.

Miss Nielsen has been in the employ Miss Nielsen has been in the employ of Dr. Bower for the past eight years. She lass a grandmother living in this city and a father and step-mother at Sanly. She nas been a faithful girin the home of her employer and was well thought of by the family, also by about a half-score of suttors, who will be pained to learn of the current belief among the excursionists that the young woman's intention was matrimony. It is said that the unknown companion and the girl were formerly acquainted in this state. She gave no inkling of her intention to stay in California, if that was her intention when she started.

An Indian who had come to the city for the purpose of artering goods yesterday was attacked by a young mountain lion at Stenells' fur store during the afternoon and received severe gashes on his face and had an ear almost torn away.
